

Document F

This instrument, called the kora, was used by griots throughout West African history. The instrument is made from cow skin, long hardwood neck, and half of a gourd.